Murray Regional Tourism (MRT) continues to be the key cross border driving force for supporting and growing the visitor economy across the Murray region.

The strength of the region’s visitor economy is a shared responsibility with many industry and government stakeholders working together to position the region for success by providing high quality and memorable visitor experiences.

These partnerships have never been more important than the past 12 months and I would like to acknowledge our 13 local government partners, two state agencies in Visit Victoria (VV) and Destination NSW (DNSW), regional tourism organisations and Destination Riverina Murray (DRM) along with the range of other State and Federal government entities with whom we work.

The year has been defined by two halves, the first extremely positive with record visitation, expenditure, employment and the second of tragic consequences with the combined impacts of Australia’s most active bushfire season along with the devastating impacts of the global coronavirus pandemic (COVID-19).

In the challenging position we find ourselves there is still some cautious optimism for the future, and I am pleased to provide the outcomes of the 2019-20 activities, achievements and financial results, in this year’s Annual Report.

Our focus for the year has remained on continuing to drive and grow visitation, length of stay and expenditure for the region and it is pleasing to highlight the positive results achieved across the Murray region.

For the year ending March 2020 the region welcomed record visitation with 6.5 million visitors enjoying the wonderful array of experiences that include nature based, food and drink, golf, arts and cultural, river offerings and great country hospitality throughout our fabulous region. Having diverse and attractive tourism products is essential in assisting our vibrant marketing efforts.

These visitors spent a record 11.4 million nights in the region up over 13 percent on the previous year and contributed over $2 billion in direct expenditure which was up 7.5 percent and importantly supported over 18,000 tourism related jobs.

Following the COVID-19 global pandemic in March this year the region’s performance suffered a severe decline with the positive ground gained over the preceding nine months masking the direct impacts of the last quarter which has resulted in the region welcoming a total of 5.3 million visitors for the year ending June 2020, a 15 percent decline for the comparative period in the previous year.

The flow on effects resulted in the reduction of direct expenditure of over 18 percent down to $1.63 billion together with a considerable reduction in employment.

Australia is gaining control of this pandemic and we will recover, and in doing that, think about how we can and should change things. The social contract has changed and the collaboration that has always been a part of our success is now widely acceptable. Interestingly, it took a pandemic to achieve this.
COVID-19 disruption continues to challenge boards, organisations and governments and for all of us in the visitor economy we have to look at the whole coronavirus circumstance that’s caused a discontinuity and ask what opportunity does that present.

Importantly, the pre COVID-19 results provide a strong foundation from which the industry and community can rebuild and remain competitive with the support of government and our collective partners.

In addition to the strong visitation performance, we have continued to focus on the implementation of the strategic objectives across our four pillars outlined below:

- Product Development
- Advocacy & Leadership
- Regional Marketing
- Industry Development

Of particular note are the achievements to highlight across the respective areas which include:

- The launch of the new digital platform that has been a significant advancement for the organisation, region, stakeholders and the visitor. The platform has facilitated a significant uplift in visitation and user experience and resulted in six destination sites being developed and I thank all those involved in this innovative project
- As part of completing the Visitor Services Transformation strategy an implementation plan was developed and provided to our partners. This has created a pathway for both whole of region and destination specific strategic opportunities to be implemented aligned to available resources
- Significant input to the Victorian Regional Tourism review and advocacy for NSW and Victorian state government funding on behalf of our stakeholders and industry
- Crisis management and response support across bushfire, blue green algae and ongoing cross border work in relation to COVID-19
  - Brand refresh for the Murray that provides the foundation for the collective efforts for all partners across the region together with our two State tourism organisations
  - Murray Best Shared cooperative marketing campaign which was delivered in partnership with DNSW and DRM with the support of our stakeholders and industry which provides a framework for future whole of region campaign delivery
  - Extensive public relations activities in partnership with Visit Victoria, DNSW and DRM which continues to deliver outstanding results for the region
  - Implementation of a range of dedicated training and capacity building activities both directly through our organisation along with facilitation through relevant industry related partners.

It has been more important than ever with the ongoing COVID-19 crisis to continue to review and adapt our financial and governance systems. The Board undertook a review of the strategic plan and some scenario planning to minimize our risks so that we are prepared. Mitigating risks is an exercise in protecting the business in the longer term as we learn to live with coronavirus.

Through our diligent financial modelling and planning, I am pleased to report the organisation contained our operating costs and delivered a positive performance across the financial year which will ensure we are well placed to support our stakeholders and industry as we look to recover in the future.

Additionally, the Board developed a specific 12-month COVID Recovery Strategic plan that provides a framework with key priorities for the organisation that together with our stakeholders we can collectively focus on. This plan will constantly be monitored and reviewed to ensure the business continues to be flexible and adapts to the ever-changing operating environment in which we find ourselves.

MRT continues to benefit from our energetic, dedicated and highly skilled Board and I thank them for their continued support and commitment to the region over the past twelve months. My fellow Board Directors provide constant inspiration and share a vision for our region that ensures our success.

On behalf of the Board I would also like to acknowledge the strong contribution of our Chief Executive Officer, Mark Francis, in these extremely demanding times, together with his small and passionate team of Donna Russell, Nancy Minicozzi, and Rachel Minogue.

Our cross border approach is only as strong as the sum of the parts, and the foundation of the organisation is to build on our collaboration to ensure the region’s ongoing success.

It is always a privilege to work with my Board colleagues, our CEO and team, stakeholders and our industry partners. Together we will work on the Murray region visitor economy recovery program, as we continue to rebuild the sector on the back of COVID-19 to ensure the industry can once again grow and prosper.

I am incredibly proud and very humbled to be involved in this fabulous region where the mighty Murray River plays such a vital part as a lifeline to so many communities.

As part of our work, we activated the region’s Crisis Management Committee in conjunction with our local government partners, engaged with industry through workshops and surveys, enhanced our communications processes and improved engagement with emergency services agencies to better represent the industry.

In addition to commissioning specific research, we also played a lead role in development of the Victorian Economic Recovery Strategy, Victorian Tourism Industry Council Visitor Economy Taskforce, Murray Socio Economic Activation Taskforce and Southern NSW Bushfire Regional Recovery Committee.

Other Activities

As part our advocacy and leadership role we also:

- Facilitated regional workshops and the Victorian Government’s engagement with stakeholders and prepared a detailed response to the Victorian Regional Tourism Review, ensuring the Murray region and the cross-border approach are embedded in the state’s future strategic approach.
